

Flexible Working Solutions For Legal Professionals

Work on the Move

Many legal professionals are beginning to realise that the latest generation of mobile computers means that time spent travelling between clients and court can be both more productive, and chargeable.

The latest mobile data solutions allow you to carry your office email, and other corporate systems, with you. Wherever you are. Just as the mobile 'phone has replaced the office 'phone for people on the move, the latest mobile data systems are also allowing legal professionals to take their electronic emails and documents with them, wherever they go – even discreetly around the courtroom or to client meetings.

Does Commuting Impact Your Chargeability?

With the latest mobile data applications busy partners can amend contracts whilst travelling to the airport, compile, review, and share case notes in the taxi, print/fax a document or agenda just prior to arriving at the client. In summary make travel time productive, and chargeable!

Visit our stand or call us to find out how mobile data systems from Interchange Group can make you more productive, everywhere.

Work From Home

It's not just mobile data that's changing the way legal professionals are working. Many, increasingly, find they can better balance their personal and professional lives by working from home, or other offices. Avoiding the need for the daily commute altogether could increase your chargeability by up to 20%! The latest networking technology allows you to enjoy access to your office's 'phone and data backbones in a single monthly fee. The latest technology means your clients probably will not notice the difference, but you will! Juggle Documents Anywhere

It's like having the world's largest briefcase! Document management is increasingly being deployed within legal practices.

A Complete Solution

- ▶ Device Selection
- ▶ Installation & Configuration
- ▶ Hardware & Airtime Tariffs
- ▶ Helpdesk Support and Repair
- ▶ Mobile eMail
- ▶ Mobile Web
- ▶ Combined Voice/Data Devices

Furthermore that latest systems also include collaborative tools that allow you to share all aspects of a case or project with others. Until now, ensuring everyone involved in a case a project (from legal PA's to clients, to other counsel) has been a nightmare. Secure collaborative portals allow project teams to share important documents, schedule meetings, store minutes and actions, and organise emails, all in one place, and available securely via the Internet from anywhere. Multi-Office Solutions

Large practices can mean the legal professional needs to work effectively at many different sites. However, the technical infrastructure required to make hot-desking and multi-office workplaces feasible and easy to use can be daunting. With over 25 years experience of linking offices together across the UK and Europe, the Interchange Group can fulfil all your data connectivity needs.

Mobile eMail

Mobile email solutions from the Interchange Group are designed to make you more productive. Now you can be notified of urgent emails, read them, and respond, wherever you are. Not only could you recover up to 3 hours per day more productive time but you can also respond, and make important decisions, faster. Whether you're ready to invest in new handheld devices, or want to make the most of your laptop, we can make your email follow you.

Mobile Web & Intranet

Mobile web and intranet solutions from the Interchange Group allow you to take your client histories, documents, and your favourite web sites on the road. Retrieve maps and directions to customer offices, read the latest information or research on a client before you meet them. With mobile web, you have knowledge to hand. You can even check facts and figures discreetly whilst still in the meeting or negotiation. For a technical overview of Interchange's mobile web solutions call us to discuss how you can be better informed, wherever you are.

Custom Applications

If you need something special, our mobile application specialists can produce a custom application just for you, be that a mobile web portal for your office applications, or a custom time recording application, our experts can write a handheld application to your requirements, and integrate to your back office systems. To see where the future could take you, call us, or visit our stand.

Ask the Experts

With over 25 years of designing and implementing mission-critical solutions for businesses world-wide, no matter what your data access requirements are, we are here to help. We can help you independently select from the world's major mobile device suppliers, and explain the difference between laptops, PDAs, WiFi, GPRS, and GSM. Our mobile data technicians will explain how VPN, SSL, and firewalls ensure your existing IT network can reach out to your field staff reliably, and securely. Of course, our consultants will also work with your management team to ensure that your staff are fully trained and that the changes in working practices yield bottom-line result.

Home Worker Solutions

In the past, the home worker has been anything but self-sufficient. Documents have had to be faxed rather than e-mailed, home numbers have had to be disclosed, and documents, when produced, could only be circulated electronically upon return to the office. Fortunately the increasing availability of broadband, wireless, and satellite networking technologies means that the home worker is no longer "out of touch" with your IT systems.

Complete Connectivity

- ▶ Virtual Private Networking
- ▶ Voice Over IP
- ▶ Voice/Document Conferencing
- ▶ High-speed telephony & data
- ▶ Secure legacy system access
- ▶ Intranet/Internet browsing

Now, Virtual Private Networking and Voice Over IP technologies are revolutionising home working, and have significant cost and productivity advantages over the old 'phone and fax home-office solutions. These solutions allow a single connection to provide corporate telephony and access to your corporate systems. What's more this can usually be provided for a fixed monthly cost! For a jargon-free explanation of how technology can allow you to beat the rush-hour, and make your office your home, call us or visit our stand.
